TITLE: OCTRI Research Volunteer Registry

PRINCIPAL INVESTIGATOR: Rupali Avasare, MD (503) 494-3442

REPOSITORY GUARDIAN: Celena Byerlee-Dixon, MS (971) 334-1942

PURPOSE:
This is a repository, a type of research database. The purpose of this repository is to create and maintain a list of healthy adults who are interested in participating in future research studies, and are willing to provide health information and biological specimens such as blood, urine, saliva, and stool for research. This research registry is not intended to be contacted for a specific study. For assistance to locate or be contacted for a specific study, please email octrirekrutment@ohsu.edu.

PROCEDURES:
If you are eligible for a future research study, you will be invited to come to OHSU for a study visit, which may take up to 1 hour. There is no limit to the number of studies/visits you can agree to participate in, and your repository participation will last indefinitely. Participation in future studies is voluntary and you do not have to agree to participate in a study to continue participating in the repository.

You will sign a separate consent form for future research studies. Studies can be for any medical condition and may include genetic research. Genes are the units of DNA - the clinical structure carrying your genetic information - that determine many human characteristics such as the color of your eyes, your height, and whether or not you are male or female.

If you have any questions, concerns, or complaints regarding this study now or in the future, or you think you may have been injured or harmed by the study, contact Rupali Avasare, MD at (503) 494-3442, or Celena Byerlee-Dixon at (971) 334-1942.
